Peter and Mandy go fishing • Domino 1 2 3

Peter and Mandy go fishing

Peter's father has a small fishing boat. He is home now, and he has promised to take the children out fishing.

The weather is good, and the sea is calm, but the children have to wear life jackets.

They sail along the cliffs,
and see many different birds.
The kittiwakes
make a lot of noise.

Mandy thinks that the puffins are beautiful.

Suddenly Mandy sees a seal
popping its head
out of the water.
It looks straight at them,
but when the get closer,
it disappears.

They only go for a short trip. Peter's father has brought along two fishing rods, and he teaches Mandy how to fish.

They catch twelve fish; four are cod, and the rest are coalfish.

When they get home, Peter's mother makes fish balls. Mandy tells her that she really enjoyed fishing.

Helping on the farm • Domino (1) 2 3

Helping on the farm
Peter sometimes helps his grandfather on the farm. During the winter, they feed the sheep.
The farmer has built sheep houses so that the sheep can stay indoors when the weather is bad.

In spring, the new lambs are born. Every day in the lambing season the go out into the fields to see how the lambs are doing.
In summer, the sheep shed their wool, and therefore they must be sheared.
In autumn, some of the sheep are slaughtered.

Peter helps to drive the sheep from the outfield into the fold.

Peter likes to watch when they slaughter the sheep.

The other sheep are let out again. They soon find their way back into the outfield
